South Pacific

Set on an island paradise during World War II, two parallel love stories are threatened by the dangers of prejudice and war.

Nellie, a spunky nurse from Arkansas, falls in love with a mature French planter, Emile. Nellie learns that the mother of his children was an island native and, unable to turn her back on the prejudices with which she was raised, refuses Emile's proposal of marriage.

Meanwhile, the strapping Lt. Joe Cable denies himself the fulfillment of a future with an innocent Tonkinese girl with whom he's fallen in love out of the same fears that haunt Nellie.

When Emile is recruited to accompany Joe on a dangerous mission that claims Joe's life, Nellie realizes that life is too short not to seize her own chance for happiness, thus confronting and conquering her prejudices.

Music by Richard Rodgers, Lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II, Book by Oscar Hammerstein II and Joshua Logan, Adapted from the novel "Tales of the South Pacific" by James Michener.

2018-19 is going to be another exciting year for Community Players of Salisbury. It is our 81st season and we hope you will be part of it.

This coming season we will be doing four shows — South Pacific (November 2018), The Dining Room (January 2019), Last Five Years (April 2019), and Dirty Rotten Scoundrels (June 2019).

We hope you will consider supporting us this year with an advertisement in our 2018-19 programs. A rate schedule and ad size information is enclosed with this letter.

For one low price your ad will be in the programs for all four shows.

As an advertiser you will receive show tickets and our regular newsletter, Back Stage, at no additional charge.

A voucher for tickets for the shows will be mailed to you prior to the first show.

For more information about advertising with Community Players check the enclosed rate schedule. Please contact me at tomchicken@aol.com or at 410-543-2111 if you have any questions.

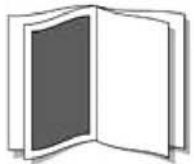

Thanks again for supporting Community Players' 81st season.

You can help Community Players by making a tax-free charitable donation

Owners of individual retirement accounts who are at least age 70 1/2 can contribute from their IRAs to charity.

If you have a traditional IRA, you must begin taking required minimum distributions when you reach age 70 1/2 even if you neither need nor want the money at that point in time. When you take these distributions, they're taxable at ordinary income rates — whatever tax bracket you're in that particular year.

If you fail to take them, it's worse. In most cases, the tax rate skyrockets to 50 percent of the amount you were supposed to take but didn't even though you didn't have the use of that money.

Qualified Charitable Distributions

A qualified charitable distribution is a distribution from an IRA directly to an eligible charity, bypassing the owner of the account so he's not taxed on it. This rule applies only to traditional IRAs, not Roth IRAs.

The key benefit of a qualified charitable distribution is that the distribution amount is not included on your Form 1040 as income. Because income from a charitable distribution "bypasses" the 1040, it can be used to help keep your adjusted gross income and taxable income within a desired range.

Qualifying Rules for Qualified Charitable Distribution

You must be at least 70 1/2 years old at the time of the qualified charitable distribution. The funds must be directly transferred from the IRA custodian to the charity (like Community Players). The maximum amount that can be donated through a qualified charitable distribution is $100,000 per year per IRA owner.

For more information on qualified charitable distribution please contact your tax advisor.
